— Partner, LL.B. LL.M. M.Sc.

Professional practice

Mino Han has acted as counsel in various international arbitrations conducted under the auspices of the ICC, SIAC, HKIAC, KCAB or JCAA. Mino specializes in construction and engineering disputes. The relevant projects underlying the disputes were each based in the Middle East, Asia, Eastern Europe, Africa or Latin America and concerned the design and construction of combined cycle power plants, solar power production facilities, refineries, high-rise buildings, convention centres and infrastructure facilities.

Mino has also vast experience in representing contractors in Korean court or KCAB domestic arbitration proceedings. He also regularly advises clients on issuing or defending claims arising out of standard form contracts including the FIDIC Suite of Contracts.

Mino majored in law at Seoul National University (LL.B., 2006), after which he passed the Korean Bar Exam in 2006 and qualified as Korean lawyer in 2009. He also received a Master of Laws degree in international arbitration law from Seoul National University in 2012 and a Master of Science degree for Construction Law and Dispute Resolution at King's College London in 2018. Mino's MSc dissertation entitled "The meaning and scope of 'consequential loss' exclusion clauses – A comparative law analysis between English law and Korean law" was awarded with a distinction grade. In July 2019, Mino was admitted to the roll of solicitors in England and Wales.

Mino has been recognized by Who's Who Legal as Global Elite Thought Leader in Arbitration (Under 45 - Partners). Mino serves as DIS (German Arbitration Institute) Council Member. Mino is also an ICC Commission member.

Mino is also sitting as arbitrator, and has served as arbitrator in ICC, SIAC, DIS, KCAB arbitrations.

Mino is native in Korean and German and is also fluent in English.
